Graham Kinship From the Southern States

This page of Graham men is given in hopes someone can provide proof of thier relationship.

Family records states there were at least three Graham brothers, William, Laird and Joseph who came to the Mississippi Territory. One born in PA., and the other two born in GA. The parents of the brothers are not known. At some time the unknown parents moved to Georgia where Laird and Joseph were born. Their older brother William was born in PA.

The brothers did not travel from Georgia to the Territory together according to the Georgia Passports issued by the Governor of Georgia.

James Graham may be a brother since William and James traveled westward together in 1811. James was from Richmond Co. NC., while William was from the adjacent County of Cumberland. This may indicate the family moved back to North Carolina after the two younger brothers were born in GA.

James Graham had three passports to travel through Creek Indian Nation. The first was in 1808. Copies from letters of Benjamin Hawkins Agent for Indian Affairs South of Ohio in Volume IX Georgia Historical Society, pages 355-258 state that James Graham, to trade in the Creeks for cattle and hogs. Joseph Graham was his assistant.

John Graham was the issued a passport to travel through Creek Indian Nation in 1801 with his family. John was to settled on the Tom or the Don Bigby.

Nothing has been proven on the early Graham men, their closeness does indicate a kinship, but what relation? Brother's, Cousin's?

Laird Graham Born in Georgia

Researcher for this family is Tom McRae of Charlotte, North Carolina

Laird Graham was born in Georgia in 1785, according to the 1850 Jackson Co. MS.

Little is known about the early life of Laird Graham. The name of his wife is not known and she is not listed in his household when the 1850 census was taken.

Children:

1. Daughter (1) born between 1825 and 1830
2. Daughter (2) born between 1825 and 1830
3. John Wesley Graham, born 1831
4. Delphine Graham, born 1841
5. William Graham, born 1842 or 1843; died in 1890

Notes: In the 1820 Jackson County census, Laird Graham was living with another male of his age plus a female over 45 years of age. The male may have been a fourth Graham brother named John; William and Joseph were listed elsewhere in that census.

The elder woman probably was Laird's mother; and his father had died before 1820. The dates for the children's births are derived from the Jackson County census' of 1830, 1840 and 1850.

John Wesley Graham
Son of Laird Graham

John Wesley Graham, son of Laird Graham was born 1831 in MS.

John W. married Nancy Gray, daughter of Burness Gray. Nancy was born 1834 in MS., and died after 1870. John and Nancy married after 1850 and before 1854 when their first child was born.

John Wesley died during the Civil War according to family history. He became ill while fighting in the Chattanooga area; he was discharged and attempted to make his way back to Jackson County. During that attempt, he died in Cherokee County, AL., and is buried near Cedar Bluff, AL. After the war, his widow moved with her family to the Union Church community in southern Mobile County.

Graham Brothers

James and Richard

There were two brothers, James and Richard Graham, emigrated from Argyleshire, in Scotland and came to Ireland, and fought there under William, Prince of Orange, in the celebrated battle of Boyne, in 1690, which permanently established the House of Orange upon the English throne, after which the brothers came to America and settled in Pennsylvania.

James Graham

James Graham, born 1714 County Down, Ireland and died October, 1763 in Chester, PA.

James was married twice, the first wife's name is not known but there were six children born to the couple.

Children from the first marriage were born prior to 1753-1754

1. Henry Graham, born Berks, PA.
2. Charles Graham, born Berks, PA.
3. Elizabeth Graham, born Berks, PA
4. Mary Graham, born Berks, PA., married Lewis Morgan
5. James Graham, born Berks, PA.
6. William Graham, born 1740 Berks, PA. Married Mary Ellis

James married (2) to Mary Barber McConnell. Five children were born from this marriage.

In 1766 Mary Graham, a widow moved with a cousin and settled in the vicinity of Charlotte, N. C. She had slender means and five small children

Despite her limited circumstances, she managed to purchase a home and send her children to the best school in the county, Queens Museum. Her three sons were among the most prominent men of their time and her two daughters were heads of families known for their virtues and intelligence.

Children of James and Mary Graham are:

- 1. John Graham, born 1756 PA. He became a respected physician and settled in York County, South Carolina
- 2. George Graham, born 1758 PA.
- 3. Joseph Graham, born 1759 PA., became one of the most respected Army Generals of the Revolutionary War. One of General Joseph's Graham's granddaughters, Mary Anna Morrison, was the wife of General Stonewall Jackson. Joseph died 1836 in Lincoln, North Carolina. He married Isabella Davidson
- 4. Sarah Graham, born 1761 PA., married Robert Allison, son of Senator John P. Allison of Cabarrus County, North Carolina.
- 5. Ann Graham, born 1763 PA., married Thomas Barnett. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War and served under her brother, General Joseph Graham. In the Battle of Cowan's Ford, he fired the shot which killed Colonel Hall of the British Army.

George Graham

Major General George Graham was a resident of Mecklenburg. He was a brother of General Joseph Graham, and performed a "soldier's service" in the Revolution. There was no duty too perilous, no service too dangerous that he was not ready to undertake for his country.

He was born in Berks, Pennsylvania in 1758, and came, with his widowed mother and four others, to North Carolina when about six years old. He was educated at Charlotte, and was distinguished for his assiduity and noble temper. He was early devoted to the cause of his country.

In 1775 he, with a few others, rode all night to Salisbury, seized the Tory lawyers, Dunn and Boothe, brought them to Mecklenburg, and from thence they were carried to Camden and imprisoned.

When Cornwallis lay at Charlotte (October, 1780), he was active in attacking his foraging parties, and annoying them so as to render their supplies hazardous and difficult. He was the leader of the attack at McIntire's, seven miles from Charlotte on the Beattie's Ford road, and actually, with twelve men, compelled the foraging party of four hundred English to retreat, they fearing, from the fatality of the fire, that an ambushade was prepared for them.

He was Major-General of militia of North Carolina; for a long time Clerk of the court of Mecklenburg county, and often a member of the Legislature. He died on the 29th of March, 1826.

The General was married to Fannie Cathey

There is quite a bit of documentation on George Graham, one good ref. is From Wheeler's History of North Carolina, page 265.

Title

William Graham Son of Richard Graham

William Graham was born about 1743 in Ulster Province, Ireland. He was the son of Richard Graham, who was born about 1713 in Invernay, Scotland; his mother was Nancy W. Graham, who was born about 1721 in Ulster Province, Ireland.

His family immigrated to Pennsylvania; then, on February 6, 1767, William Graham moved to North Carolina.

He married 2 June, 1767 in Rowan Co. North Carolina to Margaret Graham. She was the daughter of James Graham. He and his wife settled on land near Hopewell Prebyterian Church in Mecklenburg County; tradition states that William was one of the founders and elders of that church.

He was a farmer and accumulated much property in the form of slaves and land. He was deeply religious and never allowed his slaves to work from Saturday afternoon until Monday. Sunday meals had to be prepared in advance on Saturday.

William Graham was one of twenty-seven leading citizens of the area who signed "The Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence" on May 20, 1775. The document asserted their independence from the Crown. His religion was so deeply rooted that it was primarily the fear of the coming of the Established Church that he took up arms against England.

William Graham participated in the Battle of Kings Mountain under Colonel Dixon. He died 17 July, 1818, and is buried beside his wife in the Hopewell Church Cemetary beneath ancient and stately oaks which cast their shade upon his burial place. The inscription on William Graham's gravestone reads as follows:

"Sacred to the memory of William Graham Who departed this life July 17, 1818, Age 78 years. He was an affectionate husband and parent, An obliging neighbor and useful citizen. Life is at best a narrow bound That Heaven allows to men and pains and sins run Through the round of three score years and ten."

William and Margaret had nine children.

1. John Graham, born on 3 March, 1769, and died in 1825. In 1800, he married Mary Emaline Pennington, who was born in North Carolina about 1781. She was the daughter of Isaac Pennington.

JOHN GOFF (GAUFF), SR., R.S.

John Goff, Sr., Revolutionary Soldier of N.C., was born about or before 1730, but it is not known where. In 1751 he made application for a land grant in North Carolina and secured tracts on Beaver Dam, Rockfish Creek, and Goffis Millcreek, all in Duplin County. He served in the North Carolina Militia under Colonel Richard Caswell and took part in the battle of Moore's Creek Bridge, Feb. 27, 1776, as attested by payments made to him for this service. The name of his first wife, the mother of his children, is not of record. In 1807 he married a second time to Elizabeth Hennessey, their marriage bond being of record; no children by this marriage.

The will of John Goff, Sr., in 1809, names his children as follows: Thomas, John, William, Civil James, and Arrabica Williams. A "deed of gift" in 1791 to five of his grandchildren, children of his son William, named James, Elizabeth, Lewis, Mary, and Ann, all of whom lived later in Jackson County, Mississippi.

1. John Goff, Sr. b. before 1730; d after 1809; name of wife unknown.
2. Thomas Goff, M. Tomzy Mathis, dau. of Edmund Mathis and Mary Price Mathis, as shown by D.A.R. paper of N.C. no where has a list of their children been found, but from internal evidence it seems probable that Edmund Goff, Sr., who married Cassandra Carter, and Lazarvs Goff, both of whom lived in Jackson County, were their children.
2. John Goff, Jr., enlisted in the N.C. Militia and served there for some time as attested by an affidavit made by him in Lauderdale Co., Ga., in 1835; he served in various civil capacities in Duplin Co., N.C., until 1814. The 1790 census of Duplin County list John Goff, Jr. as having a wife, two daughters, and five slaves. A John Goff appears on the tax list of Jackson Co., Miss., in 1814, but does not appear later; some evidence shows that he returned to Georgia and later to Florida.
2. Arrabica Goff married a Williams as indicated by father's will.
2. Civil Goff, m. Rice Mathis, soné of Edmund Mathis and Mary-Price. The 1790 census of Duplin Co., N.C., lists them with six children. In 1793 the husband died and the wife was made administraitrix. She later married a James.
2. William Goff, Sr., R.S., b. 1761 in N.C.; died after 1837 in Fla.; m. Sabra Mathis, sister Tomzy and Rice, named above; d. 8-29-1829 and buried in Jackson County.
3. William Goff, Jr., b. 1781 in N.C., m. 11-30-1807 in Bulloch Co., Ga., to Naomi Carter, dau. of Mathew and Cassandra Barbour Carter; Naomi died in Jackson Co., Miss., 10-14-1829.
4. A son born 1809.

"Nancy Varina, who was called Nancy by her father for an 'every-day' name, did grow up to be healthy, happy and fair, and boasts that she 'rode everything on the farm that would let me.' She had her own horse, which lived many, many years and was a source of much happiness to her, she says. She married a neighbor's son, Joseph Davis, and was the mother of six children. Two of them perpetuate the memory of the Jefferson Davis family—a son was named Jefferson Davis and a daughter, Winnie Lee, was named for the lovely daughter of the Confederacy."

Mrs. Davis is a member of the Caswell Springs Methodist Church, where she attends services as often as weather and her health will permit. There is little evidence of her years in the youthful features, the still girlish twinkle of her eyes, as she smilingly recalls the days when she "rode everything on the place," and often saw the lovely lady who named her—Varina Howell Davis.

Wade Woman Re

MRS. NANCY VARINA DAVIS

BACK IN 1866, Confederate President Jefferson Davis had breakfast at the home of William Edward Faggard, near the Mississippi Coast. During the brief visit, the President's wife had the honor of naming a baby girl of the Faggard family. She gave the child her own name, Varina Davis. The baby of that day is now 22-year-old Mrs. Joseph Davis of Wade, Miss., who well remembers how Mrs. Jeff Davis visited her home on occasions and brought her gifts.

By IRENE J. MANAFFEY
Special Correspondent

PASCAGOULA, Miss. — The memory of Varina Davis, wife of Confederate President Jefferson Davis, lives on in the person of her namesake, Mrs. Joseph Davis of Wade, Miss.

No connection of the Jefferson Davis family, the Wade woman was named Varina by Mrs. Jeff Davis herself, when the Southern President's wife stopped by the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Faggard. The baby was only four months old then.

This was on a morning in September, 1866, as the President of the Confederacy and his charming wife were on their way to Cedar Creek courthouse to do what they could for a soldier man, a former servant who had been caught in the net of the law.

Stopped in for breakfast

Coming from Mobile, about 20 miles by the Gulf Coast, and arriving at an early hour to be out for court opening, they were glad to stop over at the home of their friends for breakfast—a habit many country families followed in that day. When Mrs. Davis saw the new baby and learned she was still formally named, she asked permission to name her. The family gave their consent readily and were not much surprised when she said:

"Then I name you Varina, and I hope you grow up to be a child, healthy and happy."

After a hearty country breakfast the couple drove to the court house, but they went back alone to visit the Faggards and to note the growth of the child, often bringing gifts for the little girl.

Now 22 Years Old

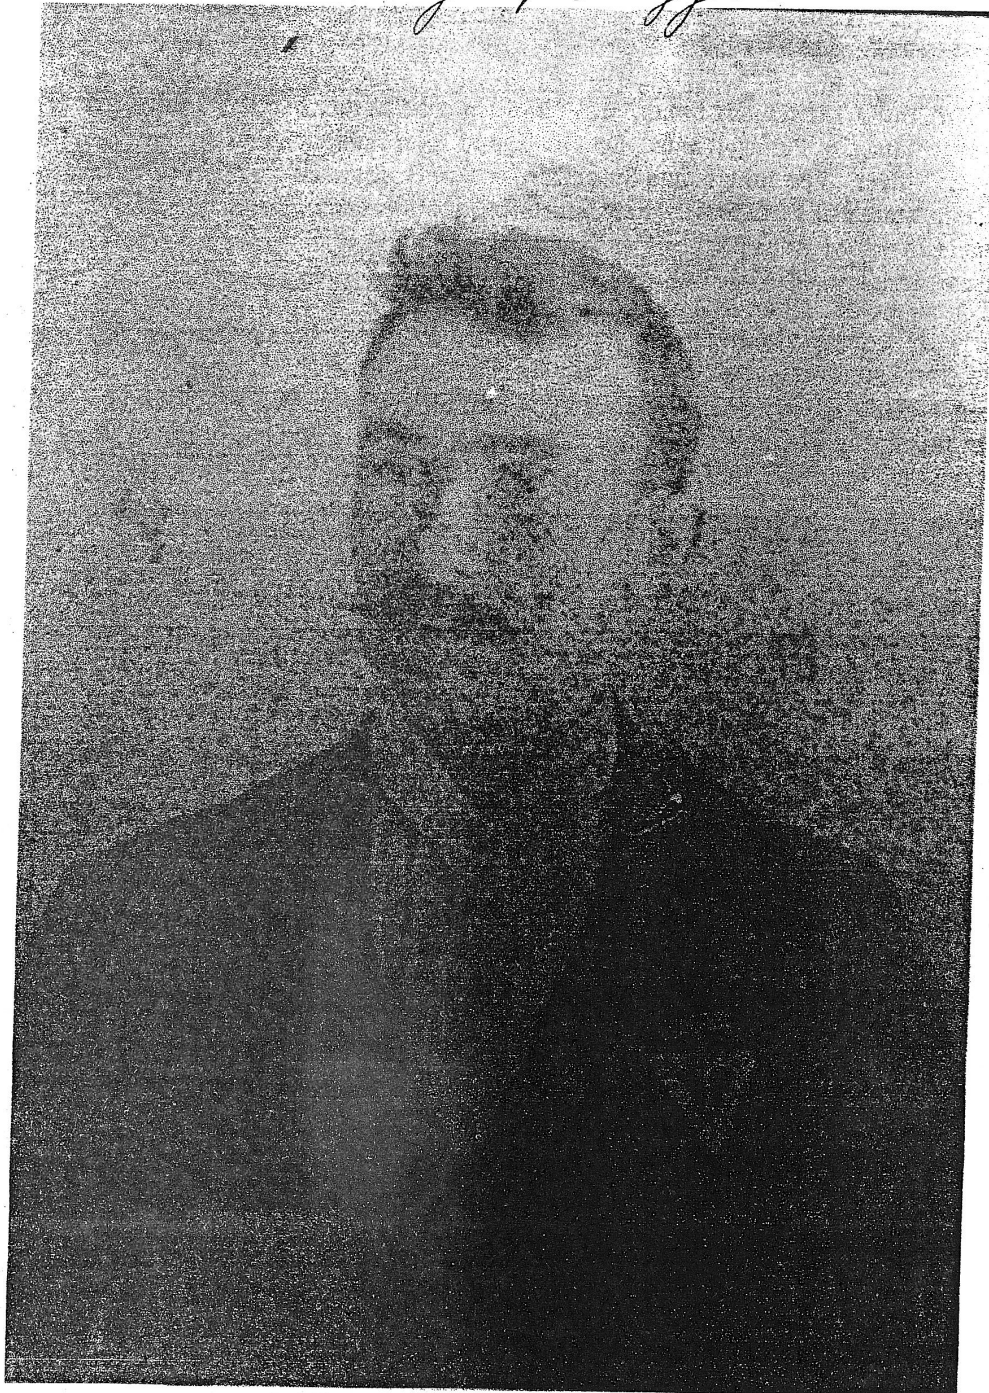

Mrs. Nancy Varina Davis, who observed that of the second birthday in May 1888, she remembers the name of the baby well and the pretty lady is a mother of a lovely girl of about 10 years. The small Varina Davis was about 13 or 14 years of age when she saw the President's wife for the last time.

"The Old Faggard Home", about one mile west of the present site of the Wade School, is among the oldest in the county, having been occupied continually for the past 123 years. The tract on which this home stands, settled by Jack Graham in 1813, was originally a Spanish Grant of 318.37 acres. Mr. Graham, a successful, but rather singular and peculiar character, notorious for his lack of interest in the fairer sex, begun general farming in Pascagoula River Swamp and on the hills surrounding his home as soon as he settled here. He raised hundreds of bushels of fine peaches, pears, and apples; his fruit and honey found ready market in Mobile and other nearby towns, and great droves of livestock were driven to the Mobile Market each year. Old settlers still recall the great crops of corn, peas and pumpkins always to be found at Jack Graham's place.

The Old Wire Road that once ran to Graham's Ferry, passed here, and many are the travelers who stopped and spent the night at the "Old Faggard Home". When Andrew Jackson rushed from Pensacola to New Orleans to fight Pakenham, it is said that he and his soldiers camped for the night with Graham, and that the General himself slept in what was then the new log house. (1) William E. Faggard, a member of the Twiggs Rifles during the war between the States, later came into possession of the place and his home was known far and wide as a refuge for the wayfarer and traveler.

Two rates proposed or

By the Associated Press

Guidelines proposed to the Public Trust Tidelands Commission suggest that the state should use two rates to lease publicly-owned tidelands to businesses that have been paying taxes on the sites.

The proposal, presented Tuesday in Pascagoula, suggests that businesses that have used the land for 15 years or more should pay rent about equal to their current property taxes.

Under a recommendation by the commission's Lease Program Management Committee, those that began using the property after July 1, 1973, would be subject to a higher rate.

No rent would be charged residential occupants of tideland property.

Residential occupiers of tidelands have riparian or rights of access to — of the water bounding property. Another commission will make a recommendation that at a future meeting mission members said.

"We're trying to get people who had public tidelands prior to 1973, to keep things status quo," said Jim Nels state director of public who serves as a staff person on the commission. "But

2 Wrecks Take Toll On Highway

One person was severely cut and two automobiles were damaged in accidents on Highway 90 between Ocean Springs and Pascagoula this week.

Charles S. Hunt, Keesler, lost control of his automobile three miles east of Ocean Springs and the vehicle sheared off a big electric light power pole causing $500 damage to the car and entailing $175 for replacement of the pole, according to Cecil Byrd and Archie Fairley, state highway patrolmen.

Acquitted By JP

Hunt was charged with reckless driving but a JP court upheld his plea of not guilty.

Mrs. Lola B. Dexter, 1618 Westward Drive, Gulfport, was badly cut about the face and suffered bruises of the chest when the automobile she was driving past a truck on a curve a mile east of Fontainebleau skidded, went into the ditch and overturned on its top.

Homestead refund — $2000 monthly, to reimburse city homeowners for ad valorem taxes paid on first $2000 of their assessed valuations;

Parks and playgrounds — $750 monthly after March, 1952;

Garbage and Sanitation — $10,000 annually;

Special bond and redemption — Balance annually to retire the $275,000 street improvement bond issue.

All revenues will first be placed in a gas system operating fund and expenses of the system paid before allocations are made.

Dee's ordinance proposed allocations on the basis of:

$1000 monthly to gas depreciation, maintaining it at a $60,000 level, and $3000 monthly to a street improvement and bond redemption fund until enough is accumulated to pay out the issue.

Dees strenuously objected to the Ezell ordinance on the ground that it failed to provide for the general and the parks and playgrounds funds.

"This ordinance," he said, "does not take care of those two funds. The recreation department costs about $22,000 a year. Seven hundred and 50 dollars a month after March plus the $7000 from taxes will not be enough.

"And, the city is behind $40,900. It is my opinion that that can be gotten from the gas system. The city hasn't got money to run.

of the home.

Parents did not believe the young boy could load the gun, Cox said, but he had managed to insert a shell containing buckshot into the chamber.

He pulled the trigger of the gun and the shot struck his father in the left side of the head.

An Ocean Springs physician, who was making a call nearby, was summoned, and pronounced Lowery dead.

Lowery was employed as a mechanic at De Jean Packing Co., Biloxi. He was originally from New Orleans, but had lived at Biloxi and moved to the Vancleave shortcut home two years ago, Cox said.

A coroner's jury empaneled at the scene by JP Donald Beaugez, Ocean Springs, returned a verdict of death by accidental shooting.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A formal investigation of Negro rioting which cost 37 lives today took on a nationwide scale.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said an investigative commission, appointed by him and headed by John A. McCone, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), could develop findings and recommendations that might benefit all areas of the nation troubled by racial unrest in depressed income areas.

The governor said Tuesday he had instructed the eight members of the investigative commission to work on an objective basis to determine causes of the Negro rioting here and "consider whether there are any steps which private citizens may take, individually or jointly, to prevent a repetition of bloodshed."

Brown told the commission at a formative session:

"The fate not only of Los Angeles but of other cities in California and the nation may well depend on your findings and your recommendations."

The 63-year-old envoy presented his credentials to Maj. Nguyen Van Thieu, chairman of the ruling military committee at a brief ceremony in Gia Long Palace.

The ceremony marked another chapter in Lodge's determined willingness to take on uphill fight.

The handsome former U.S. senator and United Nations ambassador arrived here last day for his second tour of duty as Saigon envoy.

Lodge's first tour, a year in duration, began in the summer of 1963 at a time of unpopularity against the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Diem's government was overthrown and he was assassinated in November 1963.

Lodge resigned in June, 1963, returning to the United States to work for the nomination of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton as the Republican presidential candidate.

FIRST DISTRICT.

Francis M. Johnson

DUNBAR ROWLAND --
"Official & Statistical
Register of the State of Mississippi 1917"
pg. 756

FRANCIS MARION JOHNSON of Ford, State Senator from the First Senatorial District of Mississippi, was born October 22, 1850, at Americus, Jackson County, Miss. He is the son of Samuel Wyles Johnson and Marie Louise (Graham) Johnson of Americus Jackson County. His father was a native of Georgetown District, S. C. and removed to Jackson County, Miss., where he reared his family and shared actively in the development of his section, being always ready to respond to the call of his country in time of war. As a mere youth, he saw service in the Seminole War; served in the Mexican War; and though advanced in years, was a gallant soldier and officer of the Confederacy, for which he gave up his life at the Battle of Missionary Ridge, near Lookout Mountain, in 1863. He was the son of Frank Johnson and Elizabeth Greaves of Georgetown District, S. C. The Johnsons are of English, Irish and Scotch ancestry, as was a large portion of the South Carolina colonial population. An ancient map in the archives of that state shows that a part of Mississippi was once included in the Province of South Carolina, in the earliest colonial period, and though time has restricted the boundary of that proud old state, her children's children now dwell where her ancient borders extended, and even as far south as Spain had established her two Floridas. This is the case with the Johnson family. Senator Johnson's mother was a native Mississippian, daughter of William Graham and wife Elizabeth Cumbert of East Pascagoula, Miss. Being a youth of some fifteen years at the close of the Civil War, Francis Marion Johnson had little opportunity for education, other than that gained by the daily occurrences of the momentous periods of War and Reconstruction, in which last though in the first years of manhood, he took part as a member of the famous Ku Klux Klan, which organization preserved the white civilization of the South. As a youth, he attended the schools of his county and by close application, prepared himself for the study of law and after completing his law course, was admitted to the bar in 1879. His chief business, however, was the handling, purchase and sale of lumber. Though he never practiced law, his studies along that line were of benefit to him, making him a safer and more intelligent business man. Senator Johnson has served as Magistrate, member of the County Board of Supervisors, and Alderman of the town of Moss Point, his residence. He has represented his county in a number of State Conventions, and was elected to the House of Representatives, November 7, 1911. While a member of this body he served on the following committees: Fisheries, Chairman of Commerce and Shipping Committee, Penitentiary, Railroads, Ways and Means, Public Printing, and Contingent Expenses. In November 1915, he was elected to the State Senate and is one of the able members of the body. His efforts in behalf of the preservation of Mississippi's Old Capitol, unselfish, continuous and untiring throughout the session of 1916, should always entitle him to the gratitude of the people of Mississippi. In the Senate, he serves on the following committees: Constitution, Claims, Federal Relation, County Affairs, Immigration, Pensions, Oyster Industry of which he is chairman. Senator Johnson is a Democrat, member of the Methodist Church, Knight of Pythias and Woodman of the World. Served a term as Grand Chancellor K. of P., 1906-7. He has been married three times: First to Josephine Nelson, February, 1871; second to Louise C. Rouble in 1877; third to Annie M. Kirkwood in 1879. They were all of Jackson County, Miss. Senator Johnson has two children: Louise R. Johnson, child of second marriage, (now Mrs. Paul Smith); T. Ford Johnson, son of present wife.

Brodna gripes

By JOHN SURRETT

Mississippi Press Staff

PASCAGOULA — Jackson Co. Supervisor Tommy Brodnax Mo-lashed-out-at-The-Mississippi-I this week, claiming county officials had not billed the paper for copies of public records and the paper's staff about him were biased.

Brodnax's comments came Monday during a discussion of the county's open records policy.

The county's policy requires people seeking copies of public records to file a written request and be billed in advance at 50 cents per page for each document. Department heads also require a $25 deposit.

Under the state's Open Records Act, local governments can develop reasonable written procedures concerning the cost, time, place and method of access.

Brodnax claimed the policy was followed, adding county employees allegedly released some records to Press reporter without billing the paper "because they didn't want to be a victim to his poison-pen tactics. There's been a violation of this policy."

He would not mention specific records.

Brodnax's comments come in the wake of several stories that appeared in the Press in August involving a request for $325,000 administrative budget that included a raise for secretary and hiring two additional employees.

The information came from records acquired under the county's open records policy.

"Mr. Brodnax's comments are baseless. We have paid for public records."

Brodnax

According to the letter, which Brodnax sent to the west coast on several occasions, he kept his official office at the Jackson County Courthouse.

"We could find nothing improper about him going to the county building to return phone calls," according to the letter.

But investigators said they documented at least two occasions where "Mr. Brodnax told the records clerks what to do, and in another case, tried to order a paving project."

"It is our opinion that this constitutes a continued pattern of putting something back into the Pascagoula.

Pascagoula. In 1985, the authority took over the maintenance portion and in 1987 the entire operation.

"We have had three major firms that specialize in the operation of wastewater treatment plants come in to tour our plant, to offer us a contract proposal for operation," Miller said. "After reviewing our books and our operations, all three backed off, saying they could not do it as well as we are doing it at the same cost."

Moffatt said the plant is meeting or exceeding all EPA requirements for effluent discharge.

He said the Frederic Street plant was nominated by the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control and was selected as the Outstanding Wastewater Treatment Facility of 1988 in Mississippi.

"To be eligible for this award, a plant must be at least two years old and never been found out of compliance with federal standards," Moffatt said. "We had experts in various phases of treatment to tour the facility during the judging process."

"We were told ours was the only plant given the award on its first nomination," Moffatt said.

Miller said in April the authority had a bond refinancing that will save about $4 million in debt service over a period of time.

The financial outlook has improved to the point that Miller is confident the authority can build the Escatawpa treatment plant with its own funds and without a rate increase. Moffatt said the new facility should be operational by the end of 1990.

Initially the federal government provided 75 percent of the cost of constructing and improving the authority's treatment facilities. However, funds ran out before Escatawpa was funded.

The authority's 1990 budget for operation of wastewater treatment facilities in Pascagoula, which also serves Moss Point, Escatawpa, Gautier and Ocean Springs totals $5,713,000.

Miller said the budget includes $2,226,000 for operation, maintenance and administration; $681,000 for reserve requirements; and $2,806,000 for debt services. With $340,000 income from interest on investment, hay and surplus amount needed from was treatment is reduced by the $24,127 or $188,877 per month reduced by the $24,127 or $188,877 per month in 1989, to $164,750.

Moffett said implementation of the city's six-year plan for improvements to the collection system should be credited for a large portion of the significant decrease in replacement of old sewer is reducing infiltration rainwater into the collection system.

The city of Gautier's in monthly payment: $58,380 to $71,068 which $12,688 adjustment from increased flow, can be attributed to the growth and the collection system. Miller utility district has doubled number of customers in two years.

Miller said the Gautier District has 5,611 customers according to information provided by the district. The actual cost for sewerment per customer is $1 month for the base bill for the adjustment.

The Gautier Utility customers will be paying per month for sewerment plus whatever the has to charge for the collection and operation of the collection system.

Miller said exact figures are not available for Ocean Springs, Pascagoula, Moss Point and Escatawpa Utility District.

Ocean Springs's base bill for 1990 is $65,848 but reduced by $2,841 overbilling in 1989. Moffett will be paying $105, month, an increase from the base bill due to projected flow in 1990.

The Escatawpa Utility will have a monthly bill of $42,990, which includes charge for higher than 1989 flow in 1989.

Members of the wastewater authority's commissioners are: Ben Chen of Pascagoula, Claretta Wells of Moss Point, Joseph Garrard of Ocean Springs and Bob Stegall of Jackson County, representing the Gautier and Escatawpa utility districts.

Ocean Springs officials try to weekend animal control problem

By REGINA HINES

West Jackson County Bureau Chief

OCEAN SPRINGS — Police Chief Carolyn Frayser and Mayor Kevin Alves Tuesday were asked to develop a plan for handling animal control problems on weekends.

Ward 5 Alderman John McKay during this week's Board of Aldermen meeting said he has had frequent calls from subdivisions, such as Bienville Place, Magnolia Bayou and Heron Bayou, about dogs running loose.

Animal Control Officer Franklin Dunkle works only Mondays through Fridays. "When he is off, there is no one to respond. The area is not covered at night," McKay said.

Chief Frayser said patrolmen are busy with other duties and cannot double as dog catchers, although they assist when a citizen is in danger of an animal attack.

The dog catcher's truck is equipped with cages, but the city has no place to keep an animal over night or over a weekend. The Jackson County near Gautier, which houses Ocean also closed weekends.

Two solutions were suggested: build a three-cage area where animals kept for two to three days until the shelter, or some arrangement county to have officers take the animals there over the weekends.

Chief Frayser said owners who loose face a charges and a fine of neighborhoods there are usually do not restrain their animals.

"This is a problem and has I've been in law enforcement," she unless people show some care their pets."

The aldermen asked the chief with Alves and come up with a so weekend animal problems.

State unemployment rises

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Unemployment increased slightly from July to August, but still mirrors the rate from a year ago, state officials said today.

The 6.7 rate was surprising considering that agricultural employment plunged by nearly 40 percent from a year ago, said Ralford Crews, chief of labor-market information for the Mississippi Employment Security Commission.

"This is a good record when you note that not only farm workers but also agricultural sales and service industries suffered from the extreme weather conditions this season," Crews said.

The state has 10,000 more people, or 1.27 million, in the workforce than one year ago. About 8,500 of those were working and 1,400 were unemployed.

From one year ago, the economy also suffered losses in textile and apparel and military jobs. Crews said trade agreements have caused the state to lose 5,100 jobs in textiles and apparel.

The major increase from July to August was 7,100 jobs added by local public education.

Baldwin County had the lowest unemployment, 3.2

Sharkey County had the most percent; Quitman and Tunica 13 percent; Sunflower 12.9; andahoma 12.7 percent.

By the Associated Press

Guidelines proposed to the Public Trust Tidelands Commission suggest that the state should use two rates to lease publicly-owned tidelands to businesses that have been paying taxes on the sites.

The proposal, presented Tuesday in Pascagoula, suggests that businesses that have used the land for 15 years or more should pay rent about equal to their current property taxes.

Under a recommendation by the commission's Lease Program Management Committee, those that began using the property after July 1, 1973, would be subject to a higher rate.

No rent would be charged residential occupants of tideland property.

Residential occupiers of tidelands have riparian or rights of access to — of the water boundary property. Another cor will make a recommendation that at a future meeting mission members said.

"We're trying to get people who had public tidelands prior to 1973, to keep things status them," said Jim Nelson, state director of public who serves as a staff person on the commission. "But Six passengers were given emergency treatment at County Hospital and released. They are L. L. Lamplin, Marjorie Saksa, Clifford Isham, Eunice Riviere, Mrs. Maggie Poole and Willie Necaize.

2 Wrecks Take Toll On Highway

One person was severely cut and two automobiles were damaged in accidents on Highway 90 between Ocean Springs and Pascagoula this week.

Charles S. Hunt, Keesler, lost control of his automobile three miles east of Ocean Springs and the vehicle sheared off a big electric light power pole causing $500 damage to the car and entailing $175 for replacement of the pole, according to Cecil Byrd and Archie Fairley, state highway patrolmen.

Acquitted By JP

Hunt was charged with reckless driving but a JP court upheld his plea of not guilty.

Mrs. Lola B. Dexter, 1618 Westward Drive, Gulfport, was badly cut about the face and suffered bruises of the chest when the automobile she was driving past a truck on a curve a mile east of Fontainebleau skidded, went into the ditch and overturned on its top.

Garbage and Sanitation — $10,000 annually;

Special bond and redemption— Balance annually to retire the $275,000 street improvement bond issue.

All revenues will first be placed in a gas system operating fund and expenses of the system paid before allocations are made.

Dee's ordinance proposed allocations on the basis of:

$1000 monthly to gas depreciation, maintaining it at a $60,000 level, and $3000 monthly to a street improvement and bond redemption fund until enough is accumulated to pay out the issue.

Dees strenuously objected to the Ezell ordinance on the ground that it failed to provide for the general and the parks and playgrounds funds.

"This ordinance," he said, "does not take care of those two funds. The recreation department costs about $22,000 a year. Seven hundred and 50 dollars a month after March plus the $7000 from taxes will not be enough.

"And, the city is behind $40,900. It is my opinion that that can be gotten from the gas system. The city hasn't got money to run.
